Joseph Simon receiver of the Oregon Improvment company to-day filed a petition in the U. S. circuit court asking Judge Deady to fix salaries of receiver, general counsel and general officers and employes.

Election in Ireland.

KILLENEY, Dec. 22 .- The polling opened briskly this morning. The presence of the military and police force seems to be guaranteed against any breaches of the peace. The feeling majority voters so far as can be judged seems to be anti-Parnell, priests actively opposing him. Parnell is in the highest LAFAYETTE, Or., Dec. 20 .- Willie Lav-News from All Parts of man, age 14 years, was run over by the narrow gauge train at this place, and was instantly killed to-day. He athe fell between the cars and was run over by five loaded gravel cars and one to crimson, is always a thing of beauty, caboose. The youth was well liked by all who knew him. He and several other boys had repeatedly been warned not to jump on the cars and it is a wonder that a like accident has not been reported before this. The coroner is dent.

SITTING BULL'S GHOST.

New Phase of the Indian Messiah Craze. -- The Ghost Dance Begins Again.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 20 .- A Tribune special from Pierre, S. D., says a ranchman in to-day from up the Bad river, reports the hitherto semi-civilized tribe of Two-Kettle Sioux began a wild ghost dance night before last. Some of the bucks when returning home, claimed to have seen a white figure on the top of a bluff. One of them said it was Sitting Bull. The alleged phantom motioned them to follow and glided from hill to hill in direction of the Bad Lands. The ranchman says the Indians accepted this as a proof that Sitting Bull is the Messiah, and that he was beckoning them to follow. The ghost dance is the consequence, and the ranchman says the Indians as far down as Willow creek are affected. If the story is correct it is a serious affair.

Raid on a Land Office.

WAUSAU, Wis., Dec. 20 .- A great raid on the landoffice to file on land in the reservoir strip began at 9 this morning, and thus far the filing has proceeded without disturbance. The Wausau light guards took station close to the land office and everything passed of quietly. Eight hundred settlers left last night, with supplies, to squat on the land and men who filed on the claims will have to contest against them. At Eau Claire there was almost a riot. The windows of the landoffice were smashed, but the landofficers succeeded in quieting the disturbance.

The Koch Lymph Cure.

London, Dec. 20 .- Serious cases of lupus and phthisis and one of leprosy have been treated by the Koch method at the London hospitals, and the general results were encouraging. The leprosy case was marked by a lessening of pains and an alteration in the form of the disease, indicating that the progress of the disease had been checked.

It is now a moral certainty that very soon North Dalles is to receive another enterprise of greater importance to it than the one already started and our people must not be surprised if, at least two manufactories are soon put factories are soon put Mr. O. D. Taylor accompanied by a gentleman from Portland leave for the east on an extended trip, in a few days and on their return we shall expect to see lively times at North Dalles. Back of the proposition at Nor h Dalles are men who are quietly working out the rapid development of the north side of the river. They are financially strong and able to put into practical It is one of the largest cargoes ever sent operation improvements of very large by the government to the starving inchange the appearance at North Dalles and our people will then know what we meant when we advised them to pur-chase something in this young city.

THE struggle of the warring factions of the home rule party for one possession was gutted by fire this morning. The of their newspaper, United Ireland, would move one to laughter at the grim humor of it, were it not that pity moves to tears instead.

The total receipts at the recent church lived on 160 acres of land one mile from fair were about $500, which means that it was a magnificent success:

For a State Flower.

I see the Oregonian asks for sugges tions as to a flower for Oregon. Allow me to name the "Ilex-leaved Mahonia," or Oregon grape as it is called; it is certainly beautiful in flower tempted to jump on the gravel train its rich cluster of golden blossoms when it was in motion, and in doing so and then the foliage with its varying shades, from the deepest especially as it is evergreen in character. The Scarlet Currant, which has been selected by a correspondent, would only represent a part of the state, as it is rarely if ever found east of the Cascade mountains. As an Eastern Oregonian now holding an inquest. The railroad I would object to its choice. The Macompany was not to blame for the acci- honia, on the other hand, brightens many spots the whole length of the land. BERBERIDACEAE AQUIFOLIUM.

> The Diamond flouring mill was temporarily closed down last Saturday, on account of the head miller's sickness Mr. Curtiss expects to start up the mill in a few days. He has a good supply of flour and cracked wheat on hand.

> The churches of the city were well filled yesterday. At the Congregational Sunday School Prof. Barrett made some lively remarks which were well received by the scholars and teachers.

The Dalles Ice Company is the only one so far that has put up ice enough to supply all customers for the entire season. The fact that it did this entitles it to confidence.

"What a disagreeable old world," said the man as the gust of rain whirled past him, on the misty trailing robes of whose wake streamed the sunshine on the wings of the warm-breathed winds. "How beautiful it has turned out to be!" continued the weather-beaten man.

What Miss Potter Has Done

Miss Beatrice Potter is at present one of the most famous and talked of women in England. She is a superbly beautiful woman, is of aristocratic connections and owns a large fortune in her own right. For several years past she has been a devoted pupil and disciple of Herbert Spencer. Having read and heard all manner of grewsome stories of the horrors endured by women in sweaters' shops, she dressed herself in the odious rags worn by that class, went down into the City, found work, and for two months lived and labored side by side with those miserable white slaves of the Few knew her secret, and so cleverly were her plans carried out that neithe employers nor employes ever suspected her identity. When she had thoroughly An Edinburgh patient, inoculated with informed herself on all minutize relating to the criminal tyranny exercised by the sweaters, and on the hideous lives led by their female victims, she threw off her disguise, returned to the West End, gave exhaustive newspaper interviews and appealed for legislative interference So strong and unanswerable were her arguments, seconded by her own experiences, that parliament discussed ways and means for righting this great wrong. -New York Telegram.

Will Women Combine? Will women combine is a question that some of the foremost women in the United States are considering with reference to representation in a federation at the World's fair. The strongest female organization in the world is said to be the Women's Christian Temperance union, which has auxiliaries all over the country and a membership of 200,000. The King's Daughters, including all the circles and subcircles, number 135,000. There are 100,000 women in the Ladies' Relief corps, the Suffragists are about 75,000 strong, the Kindergarten association 50,000, and the working girls' societies in New York alone have an army of 130,000. Here is a league of more than half a million women banded together for mutual and general good, to which, under wise legislation, there should be nothing but success, advancement and prosperity. And yet the ques tion has been raised in Europe and America, Will women combine?-Ex-

Wedding Gowns.

Pretty Parisian wedding gowns for the season are artistic and beautiful in the extreme. The richest are composed of the new brocaded satins, on whose lustrous surface branches of orange blossoms, white lilacs, snow drops, or the popular fleur-de-lis are strewn. Silver embroidery or brocade is seen on several Worth dresses. When a plain febric is desired pean de soie, bengaline, soft, thick, repped silk or white satin sewn thickly with pearls, a la Dorothy Tennant, may be chosen. For trimmings there are ruches of white ostrich tips or of lace, thick, close frills of white mousseline de soie, or handsome silver and pearl passementeries. Often the long polonaise is of brocade, and the underskirt of embroidered lace er muslin. Or a plain skirt with bodice waist has a long train of rich brocade.—New York Ledger.
